FOREWORD

This book is the history of the branch of Steinlage's who first came to northeast Iowa. This includes the Ferdinand, Gerhard, William and Joseph Steinlage families and some information on the Gertrude Steinlage Witte family. It also includes some information on the other two Steinlage's, Ben and Conrad, who came from the same area in Germany but did not come to northeast Iowa. They were brothers of Joseph Steinlage.

Bernard Steinlage, who was born in 1829, was married three times. There were two children from the first marriage - Everhard and Bernard. Three sons of Everhard came to America - Ben, Joseph, and Conrad. Bernard's first wife died and he remarried. There are no living members of the second marriage. There were eight children from the third marriage. Four of these children came to America -- Ferdinand, Gertrude, Gerhard, and William.

Hopefully this book will help in knowing who our ancestors were and how we are related to one another. I did not include information on the family members who stayed in Germany because it would have become too much and more complicated to follow.

Many thanks to everyone who furnished information and pictures so I could compile this family history. It should be fairly current. I tried to learn all I could about our ancestors and done some research and letter writing to get this information. I used the simplest format I could in this book so you can understand and follow it. Please excuse the errors--typing or otherwise.

Joseph came to America in 1899, came to Iowa first where his three uncles - Ferdinand, Gerhard, and William had previously settled. He was a farmhand there helping with chores, farming, and running a milk wagon.

A few years later, he came to Kansas, worked a year or so for Mat Snyder at Seneca. Then he came to Kelly and worked on the Herman Boeding farm east of Kelly. In 1910 he and his brother, Bernhard, purchased the NW $\frac{1}{4}$ 17-4-13 from Charles and Lillie Jordan. The deed was made and signed on Feb. 14, 1910. On December 28, 1911, Bernhard sold his share to Joseph.

In September, 1903, Agnes Niehues came to America. She came to Cincinnati where five of her uncles lived - John, Bernard, August, Frank, and Joseph Koenig lived. She done housework, worked in a bakery and also a small grocery store.

In 1910, she came to Kansas and kept house for her brother, Frank Niehues about a year. At this time she met Joseph Steinlage who lived on his farm one mile west of Frank Niehues' farm. They married on February 21, 1911.
